Conference Program

Welcome Conference Attendees!

Welcome to San Francisco and the 2014 American Adoption Congress conference. Our theme “Building Bridges for Change” reflects the beautiful city by the bay and the landscape of adoption in this rapidly changing world. We will explore many of the aspects of these changes during this, our thirty-fifth conference, in film, keynotes, and workshops. You may not share the experiences of some of our presenters, and may not agree with all the diverse opinions shared. We ask only that you treat one another with respect and courtesy. The AAC conferences are places of healing and safety, where we can share feelings and thoughts not readily understood by those untouched by adoption. It is up to all attendees to manage their emotions so we all can feel safe. Thanks for your cooperation.

Friday, April 11, 2014 is Professional Day!

We are offering a full day of programming that presents current thinking on a large range of topics. Join fellow professionals from the Bay Area and from across the country for an exciting day of keynotes, panel presentations, workshops, and luncheon speakers. There will be many opportunities for attendees to network, share materials they may wish to distribute, and begin new and rewarding relationships for the future. Professional Day is open to all conference attendees.

CEUs

Six (6) hours of continuing education credit will be available for all Psychologists as well as California-licensed LCSWs, MFTs, LEPs, LPCs, and Nurses who attend select workshops on Friday, April 11, 2014. CE credit is also available for EAPs, LPCs, and NCCs. 100% attendance will be required to receive a CE certificate. Continuing education credits are provided by Psycho-Legal Associates, Inc. For a list of CE approvals and accreditations please see the CE credit link at www.ceutopia.com. The NASW has approved 17.5 CEU hours for full conference participants.

Art at the Conference

We are proud to present Out of the Fog: A Bridge for Change Art Exhibition. Please join us for the reception 7:30 – 8:30 pm Friday night. We are also offering a Creative Sanctuary where you can find a comfortable place to express yourself and participate in an open expressive arts workshop. Be sure to check out the flyer in your conference bag for more information.

I am the newly elected president of the American Adoption Congress. I have been a member of the AAC since 2009 and have served in multiple positions on the Board including Regional Director and Vice President. I look forward to having a successful conference!
– Pam Kroskie, AAC President

On a personal note I am delighted to be back on the AAC Board of Directors and to serve the AAC community as Conference Chair. I look forward to renewing old relationships and forging new ones in one of my very favorite cities. See you in April.
– Eileen McQuade, Conference Chair

Beneath My Fathers' Sky

Presented by Zara Phillips

Zara Phillips is an author, singer, songwriter and an adoption advocate. She is best known in the adoption community for her song with DMC, I'm Legit. Her memoir, Mother Me, has been published in the US and in the UK. In 2008, her film, Roots Unknown, was winner of the Best Home Grown Documentary at the Garden State Film Festival. More recently, Zara's one-woman show, Beneath My Fathers' Sky, just got accepted into the United Solo festival. She has spoken at many conferences over the years, including AAC and CUB. She also runs workshops yearly, creating music with adopted adolescents who are struggling with addiction or with just being adopted.

The Poetics of Transracial Adoption: Adoptee Justice, Writing and Healing

Presented by Lisa Marie Rollins

Lisa Marie Rollins is a writer, performer and lecturer. She is one of many outspoken voices in the current wave of adult adoptee-led critical education and advocacy concerning transracial/international adoption and the politics of race. Her award-winning solo show, Ungrateful Daughter: One Black Girl's Story of being adopted by a White Family... that aren't Celebrities, is a comedic, intense look at her experience of being adopted by a white family in the 1970's and is currently touring around the United States. As Founder of AFAAD, Adopted and Fostered Adults of the African Diaspora, Lisa Marie has helped build one of the first organizations to focus on the needs of adult adoptees and foster care alumni of African descent. AFAAD provides space for adoptees and foster care alumni to connect, heal from loss, create support networks and advocate around domestic and international adoption issues. She has been featured as a commentator on CNN and NPR, and was given the honor of one of Colorlines Magazine's "Innovators to Watch" for her social justice work supporting black adoptees. Lisa Marie was the Adoption Education Specialist for Pact, An Adoption Alliance, from 2006-2008 and is a regular workshop consultant for OFC – Our Family Coalition in San Francisco. She was most recently published in the anthology Other Tongues: Mixed-Race Women Speak Out, As/Us Literary Journal and Line/Break Special Issue on Asian American Adoptee Poetry. She is currently focused on her new manuscript of poems, tentatively titled, "Anchoring the Compass" and is a Lecturer in Ethnic Studies at CSU, East Bay. Please contact her at lisamarierollins.com.

Transforming the 'Triple Whammy' of Oppression: TRAs are on the move!

Presented by John Raible

For more than thirty years, Dr. John Raible has worked across the United States and Canada with adoption agencies, social workers, parents, children, and youth to support families formed through transracial adoption. Many people recognize John as one of the adult adoptees featured in the film, Struggle for Identity: Issues in Transracial Adoption. John was also featured prominently in the follow-up DVD, A Conversation Ten Years Later. Dr. Raible currently works as an Associate Professor of Diversity & Curriculum Studies and Women's & Gender Studies at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. John, who identifies as a multiracial African American, was adopted transracially in the early 1960s in Wisconsin. He grew up there and in Massachusetts with two non-adopted white siblings. Later, as an openly gay single father, Dr. Raible adopted two older African American boys (at ages 6 and 13) from foster care. He blogs about transracial adoption at John Raible Online.

Bridge Over Troubled Waters: Ordinary People Changing the World
Presented by Leslie Pate Mackinnon

Leslie Pate Mackinnon has maintained a private psychotherapy practice for over 37 years. She resides in Atlanta and presents both nationally and internationally on the issues that impact families conceived through adoption and third-party reproduction. She's been on Good Morning America with Robin Roberts, and on CNN discussing the Internet's impact on adoption. She was most recently featured in an investigative report by Dan Rather: Adopted or Abducted. Leslie is featured in the book, The Girls Who Went Away, and the film documentary, A Girl Like Her. Drawn to the field by placing her two first born sons for adoption when she was a teenager, her passion is to educate as many therapists as possible before she drops! She currently serves on the Donaldson Adoption Institute's Board of Directors. For more information about Leslie, please visit www.lesliepatemackinnon.com.

Who Qualifies for Motherhood in the United States – and Who Does Not? How Answers Have Changed Over Time
Presented by Rickie Solinger

Rickie Solinger is a historian, writing and editing books about race, class, and motherhood, and about the politics and policies governing reproduction, welfare and incarceration. Her books include Wake Up Little Susie: Single Pregnancy and Race before Roe v. Wade; Beggars and Choosers: How the Politics of Choice Shapes Adoption, Abortion, and Welfare in the U.S.; and Pregnancy and Power: A Short History of Reproductive Politics in America. She is also a curator, organizing photography and installation-based shows that have traveled to over 140 college and university galleries and community venues since 1992, aiming to interrupt the curriculum. Solinger's most recent book is Reproductive Politics: What Everyone Needs to Know. Recently she has co-edited Telling Stories to Change the World: Global Voices on the Power of Narrative to Build Community and Make Social Justice Claims and Interrupted Life: Experiences of Incarcerated Women in America.

Films EMBARCADERO

Closure* by Bryan Tucker — Angela, an African-American, was raised by a Caucasian couple in a large, multiracial family in Washington State. She was adopted at the age of one from foster care in the state of Tennessee, under the terms of a closed adoption. As Angela grew older it became apparent that the unanswered questions about her birth story would continue to haunt her if she did not attempt to find some answers. Filmed and edited by her husband Bryan, this documentary follows Angela for two years during the search for her birth family. Several twists and surprising revelations ultimately lead Angela and her family across the country to her place of birth. It is here where Angela comes face to face with her birth mother for the first time, and meets family members who had never known she was even born – including her birth father.

Father Unknown* by David Quint — AN UNEXPECTED FILM - When David Quint and his estranged father Urban boarded a plane for Switzerland to confront a mystery that had haunted their family for generations, they had no way of knowing what the next ten days would hold. A series of extraordinary events was captured on David's camera phone, while it happened. This is the gripping and transformative true story of a father-son trip that changed everything.

Unlocking the Heart of Adoption* by Sheila Ganz — Unlocking the Heart of Adoption chronicles the filmmaker's journey as a birthmother interwoven with diverse personal stories of adoptees, birthparents and adoptive parents in both same race and transracial adoptions. These stories span 70 years, from ALICE, a birthmother whose child was adopted out without her consent in 1922; to RON, an adoptee who uncovered the truth after his parents died when he was 36; to PHYLLIS, a birthmother and ALISON, an adoptive mother in an open adoption with twin boys born in 1991. The film includes interviews with three mixed-race transracially adopted people: DEBBIE, a Japanese American woman; PAUL, a Filipino American man and MARTIN, an African American man with HAL, his Caucasian adoptive father. Their stories provide a window into the lifelong process of adoption following the path of relinquishment, adoption, growing up adopted, raising an adopted child, years of silence and shame, and searching for answers to unasked questions. In the process, they explain what the universal issues of "identity" "loss" and "needing to know the truth" mean to them.

The Poetics of Transracial Adoption: Adoptee Justice, Writing and Healing — Lisa Marie Rollins

Since the late 1800's racialized discourse around domestic and international transracial adoption has been created and maintained by social welfare workers, adoption agencies and white adoptive parents. In the past 10 years a collective population of artists, scholars, writers, and performers has become visible in the ways they are 'speaking back' to a discourse that so completely informed our realities as 'orphans'. How do the politics of inter-country and domestic transracial adoption impact Black, Asian and multi-racial bodies of color? What does 'speaking back' to a dominant discourse look like for adoptee artists? How are we utilizing our stories to heal ourselves and others? How are we also moving beyond the personal to make direct connections to larger geopolitical realities? This keynote explores these questions and places the role of the adoptee artist of color as pivotal to the changing conversations around adoption as a whole.

11:00 AM – 1:00 PM — REGISTRATION

11:00 AM – 12:15 PM ~ 100 WORKSHOP SERIES

101 Dealing with Being a Late Discovery Adoptee EMBARCADERO

Presenter: Candace Conklin

Finding a way to deal with discovering you aren't who you always thought you were. I will tell my story of losing who I was in my 40's and how I dealt with it. Sharing with others and learning that you're not alone is a great help. I will be bringing my art work that relates to my discovery.

102 Beyond Headlines: the Good, the Bad, and the Ugly POWELL II

Presenter: Etta Lappen Davis

Recent tragic cases in the news – dissolutions, abuse, deaths of children at the hands of their adoptive-foster parents – are more than sensational headlines. We will explore how crisis cases are opportunities to learn from errors, and to make needed improvements to adoption and foster care services.

103 Doubly Blessed: Transformative Recovery Skills for the Adoption Constellation BALBOA

Presenters: Nicole Burton, Sarah Burns, David Campbell, Leslie Pate Mackinnon

Relationships in adoption are made oh-so-more complicated when birth and adoptive family members turn to drugs and alcohol to self-medicate. But help is available through recovery programs for the family and friends of alcoholics and addicts. Come find resources and hear the stories of those who've transformed this extra dose of abandonment into a source of growth and happiness. (This session will not be recorded to protect privacy.)

104 Bad Search Outcomes: Regret, Resentment or Growth Opportunities? POWELL I

Presenters: Matt Potter, Seth Wayman

Searching for family can lead to tragic or disempowering discoveries, such as death or rejection. This workshop seeks to offer comfort and encouragement to those coping with the profound anger and/or grief that resulted from unexpected and painful (yet, tragically, all too common) search outcomes.

105 Donor Conception Issues: Secrecy, Anonymity, Search, Ethics DIVISADERO

Presenters: Alana Newman, Bill Cordray

Learn about issues donor-conceived people share with adopted people. Presenters will describe the impact of secrecy, anonymity, social injustice, lack of access to records, and ethical questions in family dynamics.

106 The Birthmother Experience vs. The Adoptee Experience in Long-Term Reunions
MARKET STREET

Presenters: Kate Power, Cathy Heslin

A birthmother and her relinquished daughter who have been in reunion for 25 years recount their reunion in a memoir where they have kept their individual experiences private from each other. The workshop will involve readings from their memoir, exposing their individual experiences in reunion and revealing universal themes in long-term reunion that happen simultaneously for the birthmother and adoptee, followed by Q&A.

12:15 – 1:30 PM — LUNCH ON YOUR OWN

Thursday, April 10, 2014

1:30 – 2:45 PM Keynote EMBARCADERO

Transforming the ‘Triple Whammy’ of Oppression: TRAs are on the move! — John Raible

Dr. John Raible’s remarks will discuss recent developments among politicized transracial adoptees. The cute and cuddly babies from the early days of transracial adoption have grown up, gone to college, and found their voices. And TRAs are loud and passionate! Drawing from his professional field of multicultural education, Dr. Raible will provide a social justice framework for understanding the oppression of transracial adoptees. As consciousness is raised, the movement grows. TRAs are taking on the ‘triple whammy’ of oppression, namely racism, parentalism, and adoptee oppression. Professor Raible’s lecture promises to connect the dots between adoption history, systems of oppression theory, and adoptee empowerment. Lastly, John will offer practical tips for becoming a better ally in adoption reform and related movements for social change.

3:15 – 4:30 PM ~ 200 SERIES WORKSHOPS

201 The Adoption Mandala: A Tool For All EMBARCADERO

Presenters: Beth Jaffe, Martha Gelarden

This hands-on workshop gives participants a beautiful overview of mandalas and the Adoption Mandala creative process. Using a specific form of art therapy centered in self-realization and radiating mature relationship with all in the big picture of life, everyone in the adoption constellation is welcome to watch or create.

202 Oregon Leads the Way to Open Adoption Records POWELL II

Presenter: Robin Pope

Come learn how a diverse group of stakeholders came together to address a hot button issue – Opening up adoption records – and ended up agreeing to change the default in Oregon from severely limited access to open access for stakeholders. Our consensus-backed legislation, SB 623, passed on the first try.

203 Coming Out Again: The Experience of an LGBT Adoptee SUTRO

Presenter: Patrick McMahon

The unique added dimension of being gay in the adoption experience will be explored in this workshop. Being both gay and adopted impacts formation of identity, the search and reunion journey, and the level of sensitivity to alienation, rejection, and abandonment. We will explore the feelings, issues and risks involved in coming out to families of origin, as well as ways to direct unresolved feelings of anger, shame and loss toward positive action and healing.

204 The Healing Work of Forgiveness: A Writing Practice POWELL I

Presenter: Susan Ito

What spaces of unforgiving are we holding onto in our hearts, and why? What is the toxic impact of resentment and blame in our emotional life? What tools do we need to develop to encourage healing and forgiveness in our own hearts as well as supporting our journey toward greater emotional freedom from past hurts? Join Susan Ito for a guided writing and mindfulness workshop to explore the work of forgiveness.

205 Search and Reunion: Ask an Angel DIVISADERO

Presenters: Vanessa Flores Waite, Connie Lynn Gray, Mary Edna Wilson and 2014 Spokeo award winners

A panel of expert search volunteers discuss search and reunion. This is a safe environment to ask questions about beginning a search yourself or working with a search angel. Discussion will also include preparing yourself for the emotional ups and downs of search and reunion as well as reflections and personal experiences.

206 Expectations in Reunion MARKET STREET

Presenters: Roberta MacDonald, Cynthia McGuigan

The workshop will look at all of the following: What is a Reunion? Searching, Why do we Search? What are the rules of the game? What are our fantasy reunions like? What is it we expect to find? Can we search and go into a reunion without fantasies or expectations? Where or who do we turn to when reunion doesn't work out?

207 No More Secrets, No More Lies DAVIDSON

Presenters: Candy Finnigan

Secrets keep us sick and stuck in our lives; this presentation is about how to end the secrets and lies surrounding adoption and addiction and help heal the pain of loss while breaking the destructive patterns of self-medicating.

Professional Day Keynote: Bridge Over Troubled Waters: Ordinary People Changing the World – Leslie Pate Mackinnon

The last 40 years have ushered in huge changes in adoption, primarily ‘post-adoption services.’ Now it is time to reform ‘pre-adoptive services,’ the most controversial and difficult aspect of adoption. While keeping the ‘best interest of the child’ central, Leslie will focus on where it all begins: working with parents experiencing a crisis pregnancy.

10:45 AM – Noon — REGISTRATION

10:45 AM – Noon ~ 300 SERIES WORKSHOPS

301 Without Options, It's not a Choice EMBARCADERO

Presenter: Leslie Mackinnon

How do professionals counsel women with unintended pregnancies? Good practice dictates supplying information and resources that allow choice. It is imperative that counselors use methods that employ a thorough decision-making process and, finally, that they have sufficient information with which to provide informed consent. Is it fair to call it ‘voluntary’ relinquishment if adoption is the only attainable outcome?

302 Complex Mental Health Issues and Treatment in Adoption MARKET STREET

Presenter: Krista McCoy Woods

This workshop will address complex issues in adoption and possible treatment modalities for clinicians working with members of the adoption constellation. We will discuss some of the clinical issues often missed by professionals or misdiagnosed by mental health professionals. This workshop will be interactive and engage participants in professional dialogue.

303 The Challenges of Adult Adoptees and First Parents Raising Children POWELL I

Presenters: Michael Grand, Joyce Maguire Pavao

Does the adoption constellation extend to the children of adult adoptees and the non-adopted children of first parents? Does adoption affect the parenting of adult adoptees and first parents? This workshop will draw on the personal and professional experiences of the presenters to address these challenging questions.

304 The Need for Adoption-Specific Clinical Training for Therapists POWELL II

Presenters: Chester Smith, John Raible, Allison Davis Maxon

This workshop focuses on “who is being trained and why?” and presents the need to modify current agency-based training models to meet the needs of psychotherapists in mental health settings. Panel members will discuss the need for more specific in-depth focus on the key clinical topics in the psychology of adoption.

305 Ethical and Historical Perspectives on Modern Adoption Practices BALBOA

Presenter: Jean Provance

This workshop explores historical adoption practices, modern gray and black market adoption practices and questions of child trafficking. Case studies will lead to a discussion of the role of social workers in adoption practice through the perspective of the NASW Code of Ethics and the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child.

306 Identifying Adoption Trauma DIVISADERO

Presenter: Karl Stenske

Uncovering the psychological, physical and emotional impact of genetic separation and identifying adoption trauma response. Focusing on the separation from birthmother, birthfather, siblings and extended family; discussing how such trauma affects the nervous system resulting in emotional, psychological and relational difficulties and how those show themselves in client therapist relationships.

307 Identity and Integration: Embracing and Integrating a New Family Narrative in a Post-Reunion Life Presenters: Dave Campbell, Sarah Burns SUTRO

Our hope is to do a panel on 'An adoptee's challenge post-reunion to integrate the information and awareness about what has unfolded into his-her new life' or 'How to include new information into the adoptee's life post-reunion and how to integrate the information and the entire family into his-her new life-persona.'

12:00 – 1:30 PM — Professional Lunch – Family Systems Theory in Work with Trauma and Loss Chaired by Allison Davis Maxon OR Lunch with your Region. Boxed Lunch Provided for All. (check page 3 for locations)

1:30 – 2:45 PM ~ 400 SERIES WORKSHOPS401 The Latest and Greatest: What Research Is Teaching Us about Best Practices

Presenter: Adam Pertman

EMBARCADERO

New research by the Donaldson Adoption Institute provides important insights into critical adoption issues and best practices, including intercountry adoption, access to OBCs, birth-first parents, LGBT families and positive identity formation, among others.

402 How to Choose an Adoption Therapist MARKET STREET

Presenter: Joyce Maguire Pavao

There are many excellent and experienced therapists. Many people think that if they are adoptive parents, adopted persons, birth parents, or have worked with anyone – ever – in the adoption constellation that they are then competent to see all clients with adoption foundational issues. That is not true. This workshop will explore what is needed and will involve the audience in auditing their own experiences as they explore what they need to know in order to find the best possible help for themselves, their children, or their colleagues.

403 The Science of Secrecy POWELL II

Presenters: Kris Probasco, Thomas Rector

Adopted and donor-conceived people face many of the same unanswered questions: 'Who am I and where do I belong?' These questions result in behaviors which affect attachment and/or create trauma, but more importantly are internalized by secrecy. This workshop will present the historical connections and similarities between adoption and donor conception with their common thread of secrecy and anonymity.

404 Three Generations: Relinquishment, Adoption, Reunion and Beyond DAVIDSON

Presenters: Judy Foster, Donna LoBue, Megan LoBue

The dynamics of relinquishment, adoption and reunion profoundly affect all members of the family. A 17-year-old girl's decision not to marry but relinquish her daughter to adoption leads to a search and reunion with her daughter and family thirty-seven years later. Now in reunion fifteen years, the entire family shares a special, evolving relationship. (This workshop does not qualify for CA CEUs.)

400 series continued

405 Groundbreaking Interventions for Working with Foster/Adopted Youth and Their Families

Presenter: Jeanette Yoffe DIVISADERO

This training is designed to familiarize participants with new and imaginative ways for working with traumatized children in foster care and adoption and their families. Participants will be provided with a wide variety of play-based methodologies and interventions that have proven successful in working with children over the age of five in foster care and adoption. (This workshop does not qualify for CA CEUs.)

406 The House That Shame Built: How Long Must We Live There? POWELL I

Presenter: Delores Teller

This workshop will explore the persistence of the shaming narrative surrounding women who have relinquished children. A review of systems that shape this ideology will be defined with a challenge to the post-adoption community/relinquishing mothers to stop reinforcing this negative narrative.

2:45 – 3:15 PM — Afternoon Break Sponsored by Spokeo MARKET STREET

500

3:15 – 4:30 PM ~ 500 SERIES WORKSHOPS

501 Exploring Adoptee Identity: Myths, Realities, and Created Fictions EMBARCADERO

Presenter: David Leonard

Adoptees create their own identities throughout life. These include a complex blend of adoptive, birth, adoptee and individual identities. Identity concepts will be presented including how identity can be strengthened throughout life. David and Mary are both adoptees in reunion and will share their individual experiences and how these impacted their identities.

502 Creating Space for Birth Fathers in Adoption Stories DAVIDSON

Presenter: Jeannine Zoppi

Birth fathers, even if unknown, shape the lives of adopted children. All adoptees develop fantasies, which are imaginative stories about their birth fathers. This workshop will discuss the importance of birth father fantasies on attachment and identity development of adoptees and will teach adoptive parents and adoption professionals how to co-create an adoption narrative that includes the birth father.

503 Complex Mental Health Issues and Treatment in Adoption POWELL II

Presenter: Krista McCoy Woods

This workshop will address complex issues in adoption and possible treatment modalities for clinicians working with members of the adoption constellation. We will discuss some of the clinical issues often missed by professionals or misdiagnosed by mental health professionals. This workshop will be interactive and engage participants in professional dialogue.

504 A Lesbian-Feminist View of Adoption DIVISADERO

Presenter: Janine Baer

In the 1970s and 1980s, lesbians and gay men were fighting for the right to become parents and to retain custody of their own children. Concurrently, adoptees and first parents increasingly gave voice to their own experiences. Learn the history about how a newsletter built bridges between two political movements.

505 Recognizing PACER's 35 year Legacy in Northern California POWELL I

Presenters: April Topfer, Jane Calbreath, Malcolm Pearson, Bob Crowe

Former Presidents of PACER will conduct a Q & A session moderated by the current PACER President. Panel members will share their past experiences, the history of PACER, and PACER's past advocacy work to open CA records. What can we glean from PACER's past to help move PACER forward into the future?

506 Accomplishing Emotional Regulation: From Reaction to Response MARKET STREET

Presenter: Nancy Verrier

Early childhood trauma can cause negative behaviors which undermine relationships. Learn how to change reactions to thoughtful responses when faced with perceptions of disappointment, criticism or fear of connection.

Who Qualifies for Motherhood in the United States – and Who Does Not?
How Answers Have Changed Over Time — Rickie Solinger

From slavery time, across periods of mass immigration, during the postwar “adoption mandate,” until today, ideas about class and race – and female vulnerability – have structured public policies defining who is a real and honored mother – and who is denied this status. The birth control pill (1960) and Roe v. Wade (1973) gave rise to definitions of some women as poor choicemakers, and to new laws undermining the reproductive dignity of all women. Today the reproductive justice movement embodies womens’ current struggles to claim reproductive autonomy, highlighting the right to be a mother and the right to have access to resources women need to achieve reproductive dignity and full citizenship.

601 One Shoe Does Not Fit All – Part 2 POWELL II

Presenter: Pekitta Tynes

A professional comedienne, an adoptee, a foster child, and a foundling uses humor to tell stories about being adopted and the continued search for her biological parents and finding relatives after 30+ years of searching. A brief recap of workshop (Part 1) will bring attendees current. Come and find the inspiration to know one shoe does not fit all! This workshop will open for Q&A.

602 Infertility: Its Impact on Adoptive Families – A Dual Perspective from an Adopted Person and Adoptive Mom/Adoption Professional LOMBARD

Presenters: Phyllis Lowinger, Zara Phillips

Infertility is a complicated loss that affects every aspect of an individual's life. Adoption does not solve the losses of infertility. Adoption is a solution to parenting. This workshop will include a segment of the documentary 'Adoption: We Can Do Better' titled 'Infertility: A Complicated Loss'.

603 Push the On Button: The Importance of Documenting Our Life Stories

Presenter: Jean Strauss MARKET STREET

The 'new literature' of the 21st century is film and the spoken word. This workshop will have two focuses: first, an examination of how film (and audio) are having an impact on legislative reform, and a discussion about the importance of documenting our stories. The second half of the session will be a mini-class on how to get started in documenting your own life stories, whether for film or podcast, and the venues that exist for outreach and impact.

604 Brick Wall Survivors: How Rejection Alters Us POWELL I

Presenter: Jamie Nagy

Let's discuss what happens to us and how we survive when the birth family we find rejects and refuses us. Jamie, perhaps like you, ran into a brick wall in her search and reunion with almost every birth family member – including receiving papers from her birth dad's attorney for an 'ex parte' protection order and then facing him in court. Join her to explore the wounds, the scars, and the healing process together.

605 Divorce and Discovery: A Double Whammy of Loss and Abandonment DIVISADERO

Presenter: Cheryl Tano

The goal is finding healing from sharing our tales of the often unbearable agony that comes from the parallels of one life ending and another beginning when an adoptee experiences divorce (after a long-term marriage) and discovery (of biological information) later in adulthood within a (relatively) short period of time.

606 Privilege and Power in Interracial Adoption SUTRO

Presenters: Marlene Fine, Fern Johnson

This workshop explores the ways that white and middle-class privilege blind adoptive white parents to the issues that will confront their children of color as they negotiate the world of school, social relations, work, and law enforcement and the legal system.

12:15 – 1:30 PM — AWARDS LUNCHEON EMBARCADERO

2:00 – 3:15 PM ~ 700 SERIES WORKSHOPS

701 Male Adoptee Workshop POWELL I

Presenters: Rich Uhrlaub, Brian Stanton, Andrew Tash

Male adoptees have much in common with our female counterparts. But if you ask our spouses, partners, siblings and parents by birth or adoption, we also face some very different challenges and inner dynamics. This year's workshop will be strategically integrated with the evening male adoptee support groups, and provide the opportunity to get to know each other in a safe setting, engage in some new activities, offer loved ones a glimpse into our lives, and still have plenty of "guys only" time on Thursday and Saturday. Friday's support group is open to spouses and family. First timers are welcome!

702 Birthmother/First Mother Rap Session in the City By The Bay POWELL II

Presenter: Dolores Teller

An opportunity to kick back and rap Sixties Style about the hardest issues of being a birthmother/first mother in the city noted for the Summer of Love and the Beat Generation. Bring a topic, ask a question, and/or share your wisdom or just lay back and feel the groove! Be sure to wear a flower in your hair.

703 Acknowledging and Moving through the 7 Core Issues in Adoption to Empowerment

Presenter: Amy Cheney DAVIDSON

Most members of the Adoption Triad have had real experiences of victimization through one or more of the 7 Core Issues of Adoption as identified by Kaplan and Silverstein in 1986. How does one move beyond this experience and gain a sense of agency, power, acceptance, grace, intimacy, personal control and overall sense of empowerment? This workshop will provide participants with an overview of the 7 Core Issues, and the proven steps to work and engage with them for personal empowerment.

704 Building Bridges in Adoption Reform Legislation DIVISADERO

Presenters: Betsie Norris, Paul Schibbelhute

Adult adoptee access to birth certificate legislation is a hot issue across the country. Many states have finally been successful in getting new laws passed, and many more are still working on it. What are the keys to legislative success? How do you recruit and maintain what may seem to be unlikely allies in our quest? Come, discuss, and learn.

705 Generations within Genes: Do Genes Determine Our Destiny? SUTRO

Presenter: Denise Hoffman

Knowing one's genetic/health history is essential. Yet, knowing ancestral behavioral patterns, often held subconsciously, is even more essential. In this session, we will look at limiting conditioning patterns, and their potential for transformation.

706 Open Adoption: A Parent's Journey MARKET STREET

Presenter: Thomas C. Rector

This workshop explains a father's journey developing a methodology based upon current neuro scientific research and practical application of the Biosocial Cognition Model to open adoption. The model connects elements of a child's behavior, environmental influences that affect the child, and hones a parent's ability to assess the child's needs.

3:30 – 4:45 PM ~ 800 SERIES WORKSHOPS

801 First Families: Relating with Integrity, Creating Opportunities for Connection

Presenter: Susan Dusza Guerra Leksander EMBARCADERO

Traditionally, the voice and perspective of first families has been excluded from the discourse on adoption. Adoptive parents may have conscious or unconscious biases, judgments and feelings about their child's first family. By cultivating more familiarity of what it means to be part of a first family, adoptive parents may be able to address their own blocks, which influence what's possible for their child.

802 On the Outside Looking In: Adoptee Perspectives on Reunion Relationships POWELL II

Presenter: Eileen Skahill

A presentation of research on the social contexts surrounding adoption with an emphasis on factors that impact the success or failure in reunions between adoptees and their natural siblings who are involved in long-term reunions. Information provides aids in understanding why adoptees choose to remain in reunion when those relationships can be difficult to manage and maintainable to address their own blocks, which influence what's possible for their child.

803 The Orphan and the Crone: Adoptees at Midlife LOMBARD

Presenter: Eileen Mackenzie

Midlife is typically a time of loss, reflection, and change. For the adoptee it can highlight issues of being twice born, unfinished business, and complex relationships. This workshop provides opportunity for sharing stories and creating a collage that symbolizes where we are at this stage of the journey.

804 Searching and Finding Family on the Internet POWELL I

Presenter: Marilyn Waugh

Reconnecting with family is possible if you utilize accurate, updated, user-friendly Internet sites. Learn how to search reliable sites that are available to the general public free of charge or at a minimal cost. This workshop, led by an experienced professional who has completed several thousand searches, will provide multiple handouts to participants.

805 Search for Self DIVISADERO

Presenter: Carol Schaefer

Reunion is as much about the search for oneself as it is about finding the other. We attribute the proverbial "walking on eggshells" at the time of reunion and after to fear of saying the wrong thing and thus losing the relationship all over again. But reunion actually forces us to confront the false self we've created out of necessity in order to survive. Without reclaiming our lost selves, we can never have a real relationship with anyone else, including ourselves. This workshop is about the healing journey to reclaim our true selves, and is for all members of the Triad.

806 The Loss Never Goes Away: the Birthmother Experience Pre and Post Roe vs. Wade MARKET STREET

Presenters: Denise Roessle, Sheila Ganz, Barbara Shafer, Kathy Waddill, Jenny Barnes

No matter when or how we came to relinquish our children, even if we were ultimately reunited, the impacts of that initial loss are never-ending. Five birthmothers from the sixties through 2008 share their adoption and reunion experiences, the ways their lives were forever transformed, and how they cope.

36th American Adoption Congress Annual International Conference

March 25-29, 2015

Cambridge, Massachusetts

Hyatt Regency Cambridge, Overlooking Boston

www.cambridge.hyatt.com

Thank you for joining us here in San Francisco and we look forward to seeing all of you in Boston in 2015!

The American Adoption Congress is comprised of individuals, families and organizations committed to adoption reform. We represent those whose lives are touched by adoption or other loss of family continuity. We promote honesty, openness and respect for family connections in adoption, foster care and assisted reproduction. We provide education for our members and professional communities about the lifelong process of adoption. We advocate legislation that will grant every individual access to information about his or her family and heritage.
